SUMMER
SUPPLEMENT

It's Time For . .

As the days get warmer and the nights shorter, students have the tendency to get lazy-eyed and itchy feet. These are two of the symptoms of a fever that hits around May, (and for some students September). No, this isn't a dangerous disease, although in some cases ill effects might occur. The Administration diagnoses this disease as Spring Fever. With Spring Fever there is also the feeling of happiness and wonder. For the freshman, happy for no longer being teased for just being a freshman, and wondering if his next year of high school will be as exciting as his first. For the sophomore, happy for finally becoming an upperclassman, and wondering who he'll take to the Junior-Senior Prom. For the junior, happy for having only one more year of school left, and wondering if he'll have enough credits to graduate without summer school. And now for the senior, happy for receiving his hard-worked-for high school diploma, and wondering where his last four exciting years have disappeared to. With the graduating class of 1970 at an end, they marvel at the wonderful memories of the good and bad times and, ah yes, the many times they too caught Spring Fever.

Spring Activities

After the festival season, the band and chorus perform at graduation. The theme for this year's commencement exercises was "What the World Needs Now." Before the processional, the Symphonic Band played "Concert March" by Bonelli, and "Third Suite for Band" by Jager. Then followed "Two Processionals" by Williams. During the content of the program, Concert Choir sang with the stage band a rendition of "What the World Needs Now Is Love" by Burt Bacharach. The recessional was "Stars and Bars" by Jager. The chorus performed alone at baccalaureate, May 31, at Memorial Presbyterian Church and at personal affairs. The program at baccalaureate included "In This Our Time" by Ringwald, and a traditional song, "I Have Longed" by Byrd.

Teahouse Is Big Success

Mark Voytek was most convincing in the lead role.

During the teahouse scene, Yvonne King did an Oriental dance.

With Army aid, the 'Teahouse' cast was able to push the jeep on stage.

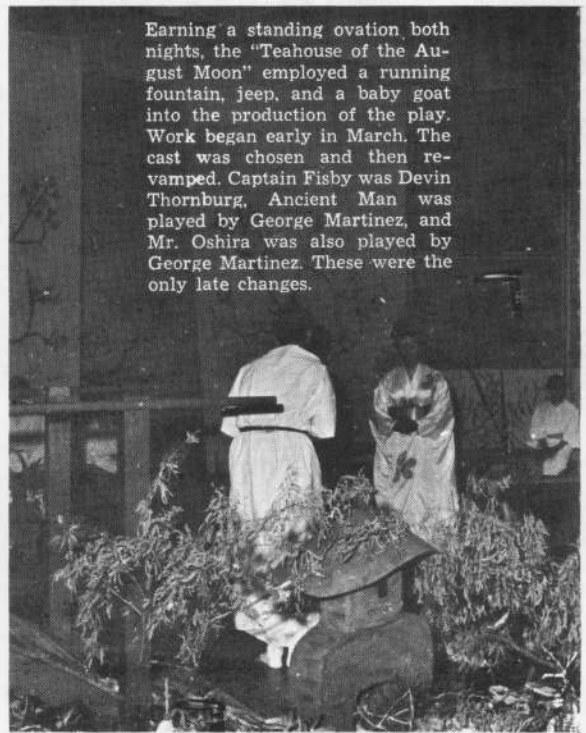

Several times Captain Fisby was visited unexpectedly by Purdy.

While the villagers gathered, Captain Fisby gathered his thoughts.

Earning a standing ovation both nights, the "Teahouse of the August Moon" employed a running fountain, jeep, and a baby goat into the production of the play. Work began early in March. The cast was chosen and then re-vamped. Captain Fisby was Devin Thornburg, Ancient Man was played by George Martinez, and Mr. Oshira was also played by George Martinez. These were the only late changes.

NHS Initiates New Members

Anxiously awaiting for their names to be called, the National Honor Society inductees watch as Mr. McCullar greets and shakes the hands of all the students. The students each receive a membership card, will have their name engraved on a plaque in Washington, and will graduate with honors, distinguished by a gold tassel on their cap on graduation night.

Character, scholarship, leadership and service denote the qualities National Honor Society members must have. Students in NHS participate in school activities, community activities, and still must remain in the top ten percent of their class. Initiation of the new members was held at the East High cafeteria on May 19, 1970. After the invocation and welcome there was a music interlude, followed by the history of National Honor Society by Mr. McCullar. Mr. Blackman told of the qualifications necessary for membership in NHS as Mr. McCullar welcomed the new members. Preceding the pledging of new members, a candle-lighting ceremony highlighted the program.

Welcome speech for NHS initiation is given by Ron Lomeli.

Chris Arcadia receives certificate from Mr. McCullar entitling her to join NHS.

During the candle ceremony Pam Smith lights the candle of leadership.

Jacque Francis, president, awards Sue Shindel certificate of Membership at the annual Thespian banquet.

Eddie Bath Chosen No. 1

East High's Thespians are one part of the dramatics department. Thespians must work 100 hours, be approved by the sponsor and maintain a 3.0 grade average to remain in the club. Much of the behind-the-scene work for plays is done by the Thespians. The initiation for the new Thespians was held at Sir George's and was highlighted with the announcement of "Best Thespian" to Eddie Bath.

Q & S Inducts New Members

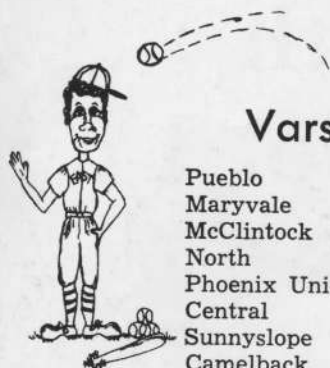

District members of Quill and Scroll stand solemnly in the East High Library as they recite the official pledge of membership.

District-wide initiation for new members of Quill and Scroll was held at the East High Library. Members must be juniors or seniors in the upper third of their class and must participate in a phase of journalism. New members must also be approved by the old members and the sponsor.

Yep, that was some season

Good-bye

Speeches, memories and tears are all part of the '70 Inaugural Assembly. Freshmen are no longer persecuted, sophs are now upperclassmen, and the juniors become the long-awaited seniors. Tear-filled eyes were noted by many as the seniors made their exit, leaving room for the juniors.

Doug is sworn in as Student Body President.

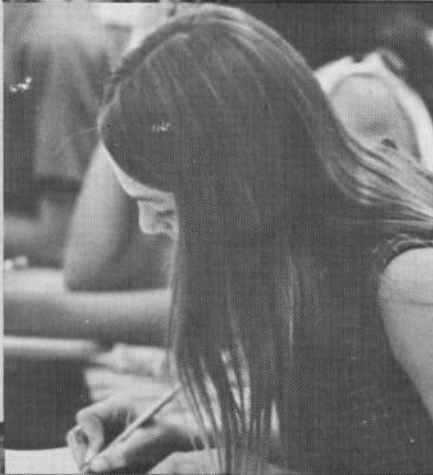

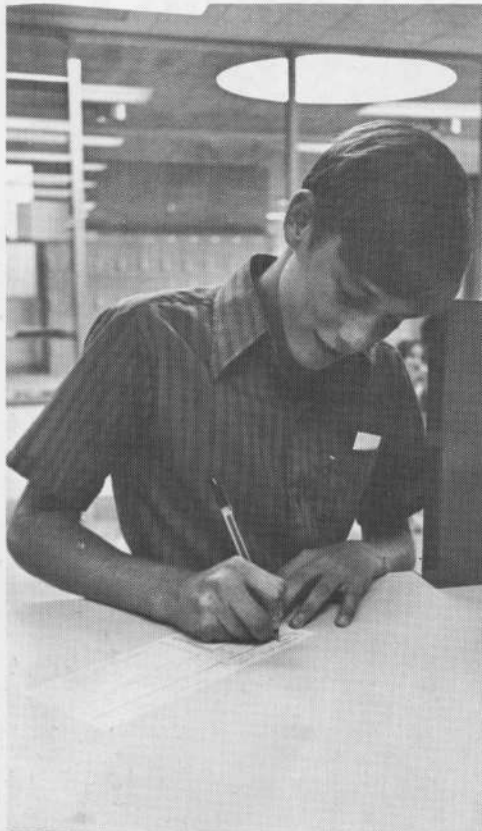

R. E. McCullar, Principal, gives a farewell kiss to Paulina Castellon, foreign exchange student from Chile.

Doug Avery, newly installed Student Body President, received the traditional coat.

Pre-Summer Activities

The YEAR'S ENDING

The best week of the entire school year is finally here — the last week. Now the most discouraged students can look forward to a fun-filled summer or at least a break before starting their summer jobs. Most seems to be very happy school is out, but some, especially the seniors, must admit they look back with a little regret on leaving for the last time. Most kids are genuinely happy though. Students don't look back, but rather ahead to the seemingly 'Endless Summer.'
